HIGHLIGHT

ELSEVIER LIFE SCIENCES E-BOOKS COLLECTION

The FAO Library has reached a new agreement with Elsevier e-books. Staff in headquarters and the field can now access around 950 Elsevier e-books covering 2008-2018.

The titles are part of the following two collections:

Agricultural and biological sciences

Environmental science

You can access them through the Life sciences collection at:

<https://www.sciencedirect.com/science/books/sub/5/17/all>

NEW BOOKS

On a regular basis the FAO Library receives new books, as well in print as in a digital format. Please find below a selection of these titles. The prints can be checked out for one month and are displayed on the New Releases stand close to the side entrance of the library.

Is there a book you'd like to see in the library? Please send a mail to fao-library-reference@fao.org.

NEW ON WEB OF SCIENCE

WEB OF SCIENCE

FAO staff can access WoS, the world's largest abstract and citation platform of leading peer-reviewed international and regional scientific literature. For any questions see <http://www.fao.org/library/resources/fao-library-resources/web-of-science-package/en/>.

FAO employees in the field will have to access the WoS the first time through the FAO Secure Access Gateway and create a WoS account. Once you have a WoS account, you are able to enter the platform from any non-FAO computer (for 6 months) by logging in with your credentials.
